

"We have been given the opportunity to learn from experienced professionals in the industry."

Published 11/18/2021 by Amy Koning

When I applied for the program, all I knew was about the curriculum that was mentioned on the Seneca EFS website, but this program simply offers way more than they take credit for. This program was originally meant to be a full time & in class program until suddenly the whole world went into lockdown because of the Covid19 pandemic. I really thought, that this program would be postponed until everything was back to normal but Rodica and the EFS team didn't want us to wait so long, and they went above and beyond our expectations by offering this program in an online mode; which is truly an achievement given that they were able to get it done within 2 weeks before the program started.

We have been given the opportunity to learn from experienced professionals in the industry. We have been attending job shadowing sessions online, we have mock tests, mentoring sessions, financial literacy sessions, we are learning about the culture, the language, we are being taught technical skills and we will be given the opportunity to obtain the IFIC license by the end of the program. We are also being taught how to use our strengths to leverage ourselves in this country, and much more in this robust curriculum that has been developed by the EFS faculty to help internationally trained professionals. K.K.

-
tags : bridging, newcomers