The VMware Academic Software Licensing Program supports the use of virtualization applications in teaching and research.

Academic Software Licensing provides software licenses for teaching, research, and gaining hands-on experience with VMware products. It cannot be used for campus infrastructure, non-academic purposes or any for-profit activity.

Your instructor must send the request for the access to ITS. Once you are added to the program:

- An invitation will be sent to your Seneca email.
- Follow the steps in the email to create an account for yourself on VMware/D2L Brightspace.
