

Attend the Green Citizen Symposium

Published 10/19/2022 by Stephanie Conte

Connect with thought leaders, students and the community to engage in important discussions about sustainability at this year's Green Citizen Symposium from Tuesday, Oct. 25 to Thursday, Oct. 27. Learn from innovators, business trailblazers, award-winning authors and professors on their experiences and insights in tackling global problems surrounding plastic pollution, climate change, unsustainable production and consumption and more.

This year's theme, "Be the Change", conveys the belief that everyone shares the responsibility to contribute to creating our desired future for sustainability. When we all take positive action urgently, our collective impact will help the world reach ambitious goals.

All are welcome to register and attend any of the six sessions. Each session will include a keynote and a complementary workshop. Registrants may choose to sign up for only one part but are highly encouraged to participate in both components for the most educational and engaging experience. Don't delay; there is no cost to attend and space is limited.

Attend the Symposium for a Chance to Win Great Prizes

All Seneca students and employees who attend at least one full keynote or workshop session will automatically be entered to win one of five (5) Virtual Prepaid Mastercard prizes valued to $2,500. Rules and regulations.
